

ORSCO's VSR Series System

The Valve Stack Reservoir series system was designed to help a customer leverage the existing capacity in control system adjacent to locations where they want to apply lube.

Also shown in this image is the spray nozzles mounted to the right of the VSR Series and above the chain seen through the cutout in the machine side.